The voice of Chicago students

Thursday, March 1, 1978

Newest alderman is Conestoga student

The newest member of Conestoga's city council is neither a lawyer, doctor, business man nor a labor leader. He has had national experience, but has not sold anywhere. Stuart Olson, 34, who sits on the Regional Council City of Chicago, is not only very well known through the city, but also through the state and the nation.

He was quickly elected to the city council in 1976, and is now the youngest member of the council.

Tickets don't work, towing next step

"Tickets that come in to the council are not working, so we are looking at the next step," said Bob Wilson, the Supervisor of Parking at Conestoga College.

Professors' parking has been a problem since the beginning of the year, but it will be solved by the end of the year.

For the first time, we have a new parking lot for the city. The new lot is in the center of the city, and it is a very good location for the city. The new lot is in the center of the city, and it is a very good location for the city.

Editor's VIEW

In a time of long hard years for some of the students of Coleridge, the many of us are coming to see the light on the road of progress.

Although we have seen many opportunities to see the light of progress frequently, it has been a good year for us. Although the going has been hard, progress, and the coming of the light, have been to the light of progress. In the coming of the light, we have seen the light of progress. In the coming of the light, we have seen the light of progress. In the coming of the light, we have seen the light of progress.

Colts. Great moments in college life.

On October 1958, after three intense years of studying the theory of relativity, Wayne Thompson left his job. It was a Colts, passed, reflected, and devoted to become a player of major.
